Stars and Stones Winter Forum - Optional activities

Friday 17th April

9.30 to 10.30am - Introduction course for beginners with Shaun Kirwan.

10.30am to 4.30pm - Cost £20 for the day - Bring picnic lunch

Geomancy/Geobiology Dowsing Workshop and Local Field Visits with Stephane Cardinaux, Konstantin Korotkov and Shaun Kirwan

Shaun will introduce the art of Dowsing for Earth Energies, and how to work with the spirit of the landscape to effect balance and healing. The workshop will introduce a gentle tour of Stephane's extremely profound work in the field, introduced by Dan Winter, with translation and facilitation by Valerie Sandelin. Geobiological tools in archaeological and geomantic research introduced by Konstantin Korotkov. - Explanation of telluric phenomenon (type and effect on biofield/vitality) - Telluric phenomena in ancient sacred places - Using a geomagnetometer, for the measurement of the magnetic anomalies, and rods, for the detection of the telluric networks makes it possible to reconstitute the complete plan of disappeared and buried buildings. Shaun will demonstrate the practical application of earth acupuncture for clearing of geopathic stress from underground water veins and earth energy lines, and the effect they have on our own biofield.

For the first time Western Geomancy and Geobiology combine facilitating a meeting of two disciplines, Shaun a Geomancer and Stephane a Geobiologist. The joint use of an electromagnetic instrument and human sensitivity is an effective solution. Measuring life force, vital energy and auras. Living beings interact with cosmotelluric energies by emitting an etheric radiation. This vital energy, called a biofield or aura, varies constantly according to our environment (emanations from our landscape, subtle earth energies and human technological energies).

Experiments with Sound - 5.00pm to 6.00pm - Lawneys Farm with Stephane Cardinaux, Dan Winter and Carolin Comberti

Demonstration with sonotest on biofield and grid. The sonotest demonstrates tuning fork audio oscillator changes amplitude significantly, when passing through membrane layers in the auric field.

Special Friday Lecture

6.00pm for 6.30pm to 8.00pm at Lawneys Farm for Peter Cedrowan Taylor (Leading Environmental Scientist) World class assessment of global cooling and the evidence relating to the impact of the coming Galactic Centre alignment. Free of charge, donations invited.

Local Pub Supper

8.00pm prompt - Evening gathering at Lawneys Farm prior to leaving for a local pub supper at the Gardiners Arms, Tostock (collect a map) All welcome.

Limited numbers for these activities – Please Book in Advance 01359 270524 or by Post to The Estate Office, Rougham, Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, IP30 9LZ
